

Brain Compatible Presentation Skills For Teacher Trainers

This evaluation is from a full-day workshop that took place on April 26, 2003 in Escondido, CA for secondary teachers.

	1	2	3	4	Average
The workshop provided me with helpful ideas and strategies	--	--	1	15	3.94
The workshop used a variety of interactive approaches	--	--	--	16	4.00
I would recommend this workshop to other Support Providers	--	--	1	15	3.94

Comments (All of them):

- ♦ I love teaching but I'm a wreck in front of a staff. I have a whole list of things to try, even with my students...The time went by so quickly!
- ♦ Amazingly after lunch, food coma did not set in. Rick is a fabulous and skilled presenter and instructor. Thank you, thank you for the techniques.
- ♦ The subtle humor, wit and procedural transitions that Rick model are what I came back for – I saw him earlier this year. You are an outstanding motivator who knows what it's like in the trenches!
- ♦ Great speaker – enthusiastic. Enthusiasm = retention. Great props – good ideas for the classroom and presentation purposes. Informative!
- ♦ The presentation skills were helpful for student management as well as adults.
- ♦ Very good workshop. Worth a Saturday.
- ♦ There were several strategies that I can implement in my classroom Monday and at my next department meeting.
- ♦ I found your observations insightful, and loved your playful style – right on for my classroom!
- ♦ Enjoyable. Love the book. Lots of useful ideas. Thank you.
- ♦ I may contact Rick before my next presentation.
- ♦ This is the second workshop by Rick I've attended and he's been great for both.
- ♦ Making it optional helped because we only had participants who were interested/motivated.
- ♦ The presenter was very focused, knowledgeable and possesses many strategies on presentation and classroom instructing. I think this would be an excellent inservice for all teachers/staff.
- ♦ I was reluctant to give up my precious Saturday, but I'm so glad I came! I can't wait to try out the strategies we learned! Thanks so much!

